

To be strong
is to summon that place of vitality and conviction that resides within us, and from it, take a stand about what will be born out of the union between us and our circumstances, between the events that befall us, and how we meet them.

TARAMOHR.COM